Kinder--Myers

A pretty wedding took place at high noon Saturday, May 20, at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. M. R. Crites. The north room, in which the wedding took place, was decorated with white lilies and white roses.

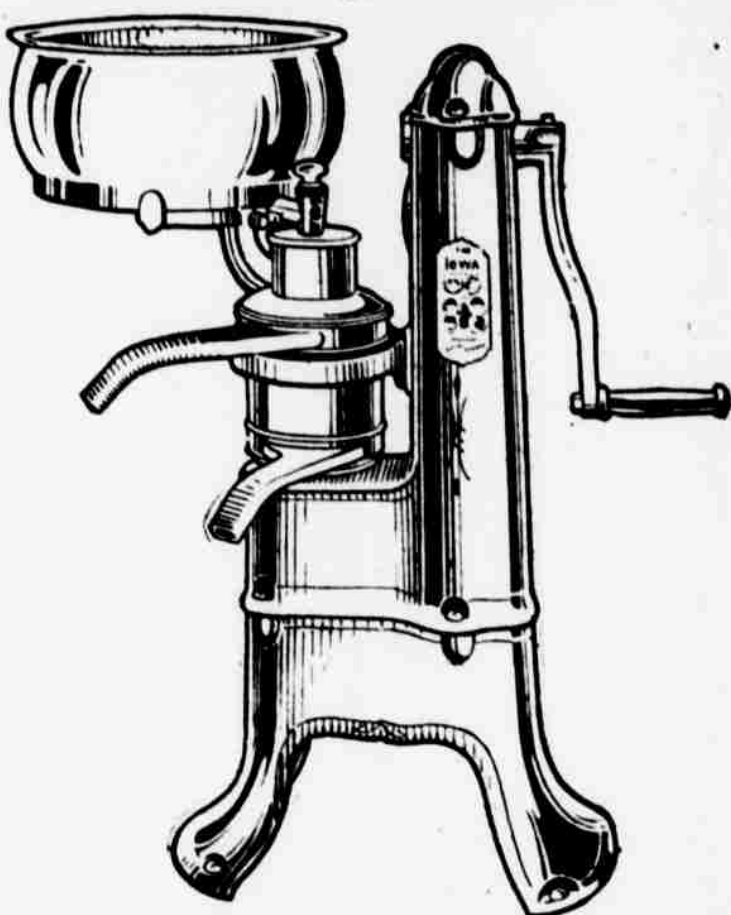

To be married in this room was the wish of the bride as her mother and father were married in this 28 years ago.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Myers of Buchanan and is loved by all her neighbors and friends.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Mit Kinder of Canstar.

As the wedding march was being played by Mrs. Hussong the bride and groom entered the room. Low soft music was played while the ceremony was performed by Rev. Hussong.

The bride was attired in a white shadow lace dress over white silk and carried a bouquet of white roses and white lilies, tied with a white satin ribbon. The groom wore a conventional black suit.

Only relatives of the bride and a few friends were present.

The sitting room and dining room were decorated with white and American Beauty roses.

The refreshments were strawberries, ice cream and cake.

If you want good roads talk about it with your friends and neighbors and discuss everything there is in both sides of it--if you think enough of the question to do so--and when the time comes--don't go fishing--go to the polling place and cast your ballot--for good roads--and go back home feeling like you had done your whole duty, as a good citizen.

John H. Henley, who has employment down on the big ditch, visited home folks Saturday night. He says he hasn't seen a paper in the last two weeks and knew very little about what has been going on in the outside world. All he has heard has been the croaking of the frogs and hooting of the owls. Has seen bull bats and snakes. He says they had a snipe hunt one night, and he was the first man to get back to camp. The others went by the "Blue Goose." John does not appreciate everything his job has introduced him to down there--mosquitoes for instance! The dismal swamps around, the blue sky overhead and the blue mud under up to the knees. All are cordially invited to see and know for yourselves. He says he espied Ben Brummer and Joe Jansen of Leopold Saturday and he grabbed his hat, told the boss he had a pilot and hit the trail for Lutesville.

Some Road Information

A great many people in the county do not know whether they are for a bond issue or not and do not care to favor it until they know more about what it will cost, where the money will be expended, and the purpose for which it will be used. This is to all be threshed out at the road meeting at the county seat May 27, which will be called to order at ten o'clock promptly. It is to be hoped that as many as possible will be present, so that every community can be represented. In another column we are printing some figures which are very interesting, and they may come in useful in the future, whether the bond election is held or not, we suggest that every reader of this paper cut them out and file them away. One table shows the valuation of the various townships, and the amount of money each township would be apportioned from the different size bond issues, if it should be decided to apportion it according to townships. This was prepared with the assistance of the county clerk, and we believe it to be correct. The other table gives some very valuable information on a bond issue $160,000. It gives the tax rate for each year on the present valuation of the county and other information. Note that the average rate for the term of the bonds will be less than 29 cents on the $100, and that the largest rate for any one year forty cents and the smallest six cents. We believe this table to be accurate, also. But any one interested can make the calculations for himself. We would be glad to be notified if any errors are found, for it is not our intention to publish anything misleading. If a smaller issue than $160,000 should be decided upon, the rate will of course be less, and if larger the rate of taxes will be proportionately larger. COUNTY HIGHWAY BOARD.
